Dear Madam

I saw your 5 april email yesterday and replied. At this time I am pretty sure there was NOT an email from Theale Medical Center, which I see today, dated 4 April. I feel the email from Theale Medical Centre could have been backdated, as I have come across that sort of thing before. There is a line in the long version "spf fail". I do not know enough about this subject and must ask someone who knows, if date spoofing can be detected. Anyhow nhs is a powerful website and should not be Spf fail. Anyhow I think I had already discussed my father, with them, in his incapacitated condition, this may not be possible. Mohini
